Infants— Looking back at last week

This week KS1 have been studying the stories of Not Now Bernard and Oscar Got the Blame. They thought about which was their favourite and tried to persuade others to change their minds. Pupils created their own imaginary friends and brainstormed naughty situations they might get themselves into! KS1 have started the Place Value unit and done lots of excellent counting using ten frames. In the 'Kings and Queens' topic work the children have had their own coronation and watched some footage of the coronation of Elizabeth II. Reception have made Mrs Fletcher smile lots already. The pupils enjoyed the story "Bears in the dark" and all acted the story out brilliantly. In maths there has been some super counting, matching groups of monkeys to the given number. Well done!

Infants—Looking forward to next week

Next week KS1 will be writing stories about new imaginary friends and sharing them with the class. They will be increasing their use of numbers in counting and represent them in lots of different ways. Reception will be carrying on with the story "Bears in the Night" and looking at patterns in the story for the children to plan their own story.

Lower Juniors looking back at last week

What a fantastic week in the Lower Juniors! Everyone has settled into the new school year with a brilliant attitude. In Maths, pupils have started looking at place value and have separated 1's, 10's, 100's and 1000's. The class has started its new Topic exploring all about the industrial revolution; the children have created some wonderful timelines and front covers using watercolours and silhouettes.

Lower Juniors looking forward to next week

Next week we will be continuing to investigate the new topics. In Spanish, pupils will be learning how to use 'I like' and 'I don't like' when talking about school subjects. In English, pupils will be reading Street Child and will begin writing a play script between two of the characters. In Reading, they will be answering different question styles based on the information read in The Firework Makers Daughter.

Upper Juniors looking back at last week

Y5/6 have made a fantastic start to the new school year. Pupils have enjoyed starting our new topic, 'The Industrial Revolution' and have been exploring some of the events during this time. They have been learning about the reign of Queen Victoria within this period of time and have found out that quite a few of them are taller than she was! In Literacy pupils have started the book 'Street Child' and have been writing descriptions of some of the characters. In Maths pupils are working on place value.

Upper Juniors looking forward to next week

In Literacy pupils will be writing scripts based on the text 'Street Child'. This will draw on the character work they have done and will look at the relationships between these characters. In Science pupils will be continuing the Topic of 'Forces' by finding out more about gravity and comparing the weight and mass of items. They will continue making stick men flip books in computing to create an animation, as well as using the computers for TTRS. All the children are looking forward to starting violin in Wider Opportunities music.

Best Work of the Week was awarded to Isla, Libby, Olivia, Jessie, Haris, Toby, Holly, Emmy, William and Isabela.
